The Pioneers of 1849, the Fremont and Dayton Central Union of 1856, and Clarkson Post, G. A. R., Washington, of which Gen. Fremont was a member, have signified their intention of sending delegations. These pall-bearers have been selected: Gen. W. T. Sherman, Gen. O. O. Howard, Rear-Admiral Braine, ex-Gov. Rodman L. Price, Major George P. Edgar, who was on Gen, Fremont's staff in Missouri; Col. Floyd Clarkson, Deputy Commander, G. A. R., and four members of the Pioneers of 1849-Mark D. Arthur Richie, will perform the funeral rites, delivering an address of eulogy. The body will be placed in a trict. That was the last call under the vault at Trinity Cemetery. Its final disposition has not yet been determined upon.

The only members of the General's family who will be present at the funeral will be Lieut. J. C. Fremont, jr., U. S. N.: Mrs. Nina Fremont Porter, niece and adopted daughter of the dead General: her husband, Col. H. M. Porter, of the Amer?can Bank-Note Company, and Dr. W. J. Morton, the General's physician and friend.

The stricken widow, Jessie Benton Fremont, and her daughter Elizabeth are living at St. James Park, Los Angeles, Cal., about the only property which the General possessed at his death. Of course they cannot be present, and it is not probable that the second son, Lieut. Frank Presson Fremont, U. S. A. who is at Fort Douglas. Wyo., can be here.

Franker Harrison has issued a proclamation in which he recounts the life-work of Gen. Fremont, and reminds the nation of its debt to the man who made pathways over the Rocky and Sierra Nevada Mountains, and orders the flags at halfmast on the day of the funeral on all Government buildings.

Flags were placed at half-mast all over New York are generally death became known.

All Its Dead.

Some Important Changes - Last Fell, in Her Cradle, Two Stories The Gloom at Red Wing, Whence Whole Families Were Taken

> RED WING, Minn., July 15. - No words can describe the gloom of these days

The mourning is in the very air of this little town, smeng whose lately happy people Death dealt his beaviest blows. Homes lately full of light and gladness are to-day silent, with every voice hushed The last fires to which the firemen were near causing their own deaths and that of that used to sound within their walls. The Destroyer is dreadful when he takes only one of a household; but when, as cradle in a bedroom on the second floor, in this disaster, he reaches out for whole families busbands, wives and children and the workmen were heedlessly digging away under the foundation wall, when the chimney was suddenly seen to totter.

'Look out!' cried one of the laborers, and the men scrambled in all directions as the entire rear wall fell outward with a terrible orash.

When the dust from the debris had cleared away a tiny cry came up from under the ruins.

Amilies—busbands, wives and children all at once—his work becomes tenfold more therrible.

The best obtainable facts and figures up to this morning place the number of deaths from the wreck of the Sea Wing at about one hundred and thirty. This, however, can only be called an approximately approximately about one for the First Spectators.

There was but one solitary individual at the new Aqueduct gate on the northern end of the Eastern half of the huge double reservoir in Central Park this morning.

Very Hard Lot of a Gallant South Beach Razzle-Dazzler.

An Unfortunate Occurrence That DEMPSEY

Spoiled a Ride and Snapped a Leg. Amid the storm clouds of tragic events The Last of the Bocdlers Gives is sometimes heard the faint clear tinkle of the jester's cap and bells. Such is the be admitted into any family circle. The razzle-dazzte is something like a carrousel. It goes round. But it also goes up and down as if it were constantly climbing over hillocks. It seems to be a real ingenious scheme for producing seasickness without the inconvenience of a sea voyage.

It is the saccharine function of Peter orthodox, true and necessary, and should sickness willout the inconvenience of a sea voyage.

It is the saccharine function of Peter Brooks to assist the ladies, bless 'em into this infernal gyrator and then leave them to the care of Providence. Yesterday he saw nigh to three hundred pounds of feminine humanity approaching the wobbly razzle-dazzle.

Peter looked at the lady, and then looked at the machine. Then he reflected hastily that it wasn't his mechine anyhow. So he alvanced with his seductive professional smile, which has so much to do with the success of the razzle-dazzle, and prepared to lift the lady.

Be assisted in the process by putting her hands on Peter's shoulders. Alsa, and alack a day! The rezule-dazzler went down like a poppy before the twhetted scythe, and horror; no: can it be? Yes, 'tis indeed so, She went down to another.

The rain three hundred pounds lighting on Peter's too, too fragile leg with a dull, sickening thad!

In extenuation of Peter's rapid obliteration be it said that it took one dozen lusty masculine arms to restore the fairy form which rested like a weary, sputless dove on Peter's upper leg to a perpendicular.

The rest of the story is dull and too weary. There is little in it but Smith's infirmary. Peter is in the linfirmary in a state of siege. In secondance with this proclamation of yesterday, declaring the country in a state of siege. In secondance with the prospective war with Guatemala constitute.

ISPECIAL TO THE WORLD, I NIAGARA FALLS. July 14 .- An unknown young man, whose home is in Buffalo, committed suicide at 4 o'clock this afternoon by comping from the parapet wall at the brink of the American Falls. He came here on an afternoon train with two other men whose acquaintance he had formed during the ournes.

On the way from the railroad station to the falls the party stopped and took several drinks, and when Prospect Point was reached he suddenly turned to his comrades and said: 'tiood-by, boys; I am going over the falls."
